Q2. South Bruce Address

---

Q3. Telephone Number

---

Q4. Email

---

Q5. Community Organization (if any)

---

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Only a referendum as it makes it clear whether there is a yes or no answer. It's really the only certain result.

---

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

The rest of the processes as it doesn't make any answer clear to anyone as there could be bias on the part of any participants in any of the other methods chosen.

---

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

not answered

---

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

I think before we go any further and get ensnared by the process to the point where we can't back out that a referendum should be held as soon as legally possible.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

After eight years of listening to the NWMO tell us what they think I think we are informed enough to be able to decide whether we want this to go ahead or not.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

Personally I am not anti-nuclear, even though that is how anyone who doesn't agree with the NWMO is labelled. I just don't believe this is the right solution for the waste products. Until we can come up with a solution that doesn't involve burying and abandoning this waste I think it should be left where it is and more research and money put into coming up with a solution that doesn't risk our future farmland and waters. I don't care how many simulations are done saying this is safe, no one can predict Mother Nature's will. At least, with the waste above ground as it is now, it can be monitored forever.

Q1. Name

Q2. South Bruce Address

Q3. Telephone Number

Q4. Email

Q5. Community Organization (if any)

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

community panel and public referendum. I think these are the only 2 types that really allow a complete picture. South Bruce is so small and many different socioeconomics in play, that a sampling that is brief and not in depth where discussion can happen and have questions asked and answered does not seem to be able to fully capture all views or necessarily be representative.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

vote of council, advisory committee, community engagement activities would be highest on dislike- I do not feel that they allow the community to fully have an unbiased say.... they are all able to be politically corrupt without much difficulty. There is already so much division in South Bruce, in towns within South Bruce, that without everyone who wants to have a say getting that opportunity or feel like they are represented in a small subset, it's going to be hard for the community to heal, no matter which way the decision goes

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

I don't think there is a better way than a yes/no willingness vote on the topic. There are so many facets of our community that are affected, that measuring each of them still won't give a good enough picture.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

EVERY South Bruce resident with a valid drivers license with exceptions should be PERSONALLY invited to have their say - aka home mailing, not online survey only. (includes higher level high school but not those too young to fully understand all the way up to elderly- if dementia is why no license, probably not able to make an informed decision, but if poor eyesight, then would still be able to make informed decision)

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

I need to know WHEN and HOW to provide my opinion when it comes time to make that decision. I want to know what is being considered in terms of the impact on this area re: poverty line, housing, farm land availability and value, socioeconomic status changes and retail impact, number of jobs and whether local individuals who were RAISED (not just currently reside) in South Bruce will be given precedence and training over individuals outside of this area.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

There is so much more at stake and so much more at play. Please keep the politics out of it. (Yes, I understand that is near impossible. Do your best.)

Q4. Email

Q5. Community Organization (if any)

---

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Community Engagement Activities, Opinion Polls and Surveys and Public Referendum in 2023 or later. I believe this gives the community the most opportunity to learn about the process prior to a vote.

---

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Community Panel, I believe the randomly selected community members could be lopsided to one side or another.

---

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

not answered

---

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

The Guiding Principles need to be met by South Bruce and/or NWMO as well as have provisions to renegotiate if there are changes in the storage process.

Scientific information by REPUTABLE sources (Universities etc)

Q5. Community Organization (if any)

---

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Polls and surveys or public referendum - encompasses more view points. Eliminates "random" picking to determine a whole community decision. People who feel strongly will participate. In person or mail in ballot removes the possibility of internet hacking, paying off people for their login information.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Council or small group decision. Easy to target members negatively. Process of determining randomness - who decides this? Workshops and information sessions have been done for years now.

---

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Votes be allowed by business owners as well. Tax roll numbers?

---

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

not answered

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

All parties get a vote including indigenous groups. Representation from multiple sides at the vote so that no question that it wasn't swayed in one direction or another. Scientific data from sources other than those that stand to profit.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Public Referendum

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Most people in our community will not or cannot get to a public meeting. Our aging population don't do well with computers. Most people are not inclined to fill out a survey. A public referendum gives everyone in the community a chance. It is the only way to truly understand how the people of South Bruce feel, and is truly the democratic way.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

No. A Public Referendum is the only way to go. A decision as big as this, one that will affect our families in the future should not be left to surveys, polls or council. The people need to be heard and respected.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

An independent company with no affiliation to NWMO could do a survey. But the questions need to be worded clearly. ie do you want this process to happen in South Bruce? Why? The past survey was worded the people feel informed. That doesn't mean that they want it. It just means they are informed. Why is council so afraid to ask the question plain and simple? Yes or no.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

I need to know that I will have a say in the process

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

Once this decision is made there is no going back. The fallout will be in our beautiful community. Please forget the money and really consider if this is safe for the people of South Bruce, now and 150 years from now. If I were council I would push for a vote otherwise it will be on them when or if things go wrong. Is this a legacy we want?

The advantages and disadvantages of the project.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Referendum. However, your criteria of 50% of the voting public is too high - it's unrealistic, and you are omitting this as a viable option using this criteria.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Vote of Council alone is NOT a viable option. There has to be other criteria, and it has to be specific and measurable. Every other option up there besides a referendum is not a fair process, because it does not include a measurable indicator of community opinion.

---

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

A referendum with no minimum voter turnout.

---

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

MEASURABLE. Anything other than a measurable activity, such as a vote, cannot fairly determine what community sentiment is.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

Scientific evidence, Ojibway Nation perspective, and information on what properties have already been purchased and for how much money, as well as any monetary transactions or agreements that have been made with the NWMO for anything related to the dump, including monies given to the government(s).

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

There is obvious bias in this survey. You are not fooling anyone - all of the options do not fairly measure public opinion. You need to come up with a fair and measurable way to get community feedback, or it will be invalid, and I will do my best to publicize this municipality's unfair and biased process, including the conflicts of interest of councilors.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Opinion Poll & Survey.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Referendums-we say no to the referendum since it is very difficult to get all voters informed enough to make a good decision. It takes door to door contact which is near impossible.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

We like the survey which has good coverage and a high accuracy rating.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

Somehow honest factual information has to prevail. Right now, people are taking sides and all kinds of dirty, dishonest tactics are being employed that must not dominate. Listening and studying is the most important thing.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

We have it all with the many information sheets coming in the mail and ability to attend zoom meetings. Hopefully more in person meetings can take place.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

Somehow, the people sitting undecided have to be contacted to ensure they have the honest, factual facts. We see a lot of "fence sitters" that need "one on one" contact. Hopefully through surveys like this, the "fence sitters" can be identified and given special attention. I am blessed since I worked in Nuclear and have less fear of the radiation. I also have a good grounding on the DGR having been on Council for South Bruce. I am convinced that underground storage is much safer than above ground storage. A lot of "fence sitters" probably have not taken the time out of their busy schedule to get this understanding. [REDACTED]

All of the others

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Public referendum

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

Simple clear question: do you want a DGR in South Bruce Yes or no

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

I am informed.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

I have attended numerous meetings, workshops at Formosa and Mildmay halls over a period of many years. I believe the people who generally get involved with current events have had many opportunities to learn, listen and decide by now. The ones that aren't informed are the ones who will not put forth the effort to get informed. I feel NWNO is not transparent and will never make mention of any negatives of a DGR. When I am about to tackle a big project I always go over the pros and cons to make my decisions. All speakers are affiliated with NWMO. Doctor Gordon Edwards is a very important speaker and has been in the nuclear industry many years and was very informative. Not once did NWMO mention reprocessing before it could be put in a DGR. I really believe this is an experiment and when we are dealing with underground water and disrupting rock by drilling etc we are playing with our biggest necessity of all...our drinkable water. We can never get it back if it is contaminated. I have indicated many times that I feel we need to put our money into exploring other ways to either use or break down the unspent fuel, not spend millions to bury it.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Advisory Committee Vote of Council

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Referendum may not work -I don't believe there will be the required percentage of voters for a decision through a referendum. If a referendum is held it should not be until all studies are done to determine whether it is a viable site. Any kind of vote should not happen prior to residents knowing all the facts.

---

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

not answered

---

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

We need to know the final decision on a site and have all the data prior to deciding willingness. There is so much misinformation and rumours in the community it is hard to make any kind of decision on willingness without being presented with facts not speculation.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Community engagement and Community panel. That shows the actual residents of South Bruce are making the choice.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Referendum. I believe there are three groups. For against and apathetic. The apathetic will not vote and sway the results.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

If a referendum was to be held it should need a minimum Polk size of say 60 percent of residents to have actually voted. So if say 60 percent of the 45 percent that actually voted on the topic that's not taking into account all voices.

---

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

More events where community engagement is involved not just town hall meetings with the leaders of the willing to listen and the anti-dgr but in the community.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

I've done my research and took a class in post-secondary education about dgrs and their effects. The science needs to be explained in better terms to everyone.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

The people have the right to informed consent however non-biased information will be next to impossible to show to both groups without both crying fraud. Independent and trusted think groups should be brought in. No NWO and nothing funded by NWO or the Anti-DGR because as much as non-profit they claim to be money follows all these types of environmental issues from oil sands to wet lands to urban sprawl. We need independent to come in preferably from France or Sweden where this kind of work has been done for decades. Both sides have been blocked in those countries.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

A formal binding referendum held concurrently with the 2022 municipal election.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

All others do not reflect a fair democratic process and are not likely binding on the elected council of 2022. They are open to manipulation and results can be skewed. ie. As in offering prizes to those who fill in surveys or possible bursaries to students who attend NWMO workshops. Online survey's much like other social media are not readily available to many of other seniors or those not techno savvy.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

No

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

Information should be provided on how other communities have determined willingness on projects of this size. (My bet is that 9 out of 10 times it was by way of a formal vote in a referendum or plebiscite. Such was the case when the SON decided on their unwillingness towards the dgr proposed for low-intermediate waste. Why shouldn't the same method be used here in South Bruce?

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

What are the soci economic impacts of this proposal and how will you mitigate them? How will the SON express their willingness to this proposal? What notes were taken in early discussions 2005-2010 by county council regarding this proposal? Other than geological concerns what was the criteria for deselection of other communities that showed interest? Was proximity to the current inventory of nuclear spent fuel a motivating factor to locate in South Bruce? Will processing of spent fuel from smr's be done before disposal in this dgr and will it be done here in South Bruce?

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

I can almost say with certainty that should a binding referendum not be provided in 2022 as a method to gauge willingness on this proposal than any decision by council to support or reject the proposal will be considered fraudulent and will be opposed both in whatever legal means possible and in the higher court of public opinion.

Public Referendum is not an option.. this has to occur! Community engagement would be nice to see.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Community Pannel... "random" people to speak their mind isn't helpful as certain people will be either manipulated or they don't care.

Polls and surveys done by phone or online. Seem they are always questioned or manipulated

---

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

The science should be known before any determination is made one way or another.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Community Engagement Activities- gives the community and opportunity to become actively involved; Advisory Committee- been involved for the long haul educating and learning the pros and cons through dedication to the process over numerous year of CLC meetings, Vote of Council- with the vote so close to the time for a decision, its likely the elected officials are elected based on their views on the project. Elected officials are also most likely to have the best interest of the community in mind.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Public referendum- mass amounts of miss information, people making decisions based on fear instead of fact based information.

---

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

I think South Bruce is doing an excellent job and paired with the expertise of the consultants they will come to a specific demonstration of willingness after a transparent process.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

Science needs to be clearly defined. Social impact assessment must be fully complete. Clear understanding of the project benefits including what the CofE would look like for our community.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

Similar to response #9. Ease of access to all information. Regular updates on all studies being completed.

Vote of council - the council was elected to represent the voters of our municipality and should have a good idea on what the community wants

---

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

public referendum - difficult to get 50% of eligible voters to vote community panel - randomly selected people - could have residents that are not well informed of the pros and cons very important that we know the Saugeen Ojibway Nation's perspective on the project, as well we need to be assured that the aquifer is protected. vote by council- too many are already accusing the council of taking bribes- totally wrong by the way opinion polls and surveys are always questioned community panel-40 random people-it is too important a decision to leave to "random" people who may have agendas or on the other hand, no real interest in learning about the dgr proposal

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

facts facts facts the anti dgr group has put so much misinformation out there that people really don't know the facts. They are just scared of it. I think all signs that post anything false like dump,glow,nukewater, nuke etc should be made removed and only opposed to the dgr in proper language be left.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

if the SON has final say, they should be first to sign on otherwise South Bruce willingness doesn't matter and all of the community divide could stop.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

good luck. The anti group is getting worse for threatening livelihoods and spreading false information unchecked. Guiding principles are more like dream principles. eg You can't tell people where to live. Consequently whole concept is tainted.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

None. Nuclear depositories, concentrating waste, is an idea which has not been proven in practice. It is only a theory. This "Permanent Solution" is not a situation where a Best Management Practice is acceptable.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

The first NMWO meetings made it (subtly) obvious that transportation is the primary issue. Consequently this process has become farcial, with South Bruce as the preferred host site. NMWO was able to "convince" council that it would only consider a willing host, but in the meantime here's some money. Council appears to welcome the opportunity to play with NMWO's largesse. And now, to continue the hypocrisy/manipulation, lets play with the "Willing Host" criteria. Shameful.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Community Panel or Public Referendum. Community panel because it would randomly draw from the community and the panel would spend time thinking about the issues. Public Referendum because it would allow more people to decide; however, this would ignore the votes of people who are not Canadian citizens and I think non-citizens should also have input.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Vote of Council or Advisory Committee. Because they are non-random samples of the community and likely have views that are biased. Opinion Polls and Surveys might not be taken seriously enough.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

not answered

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

I think it is important to ask all types of people, not just those who are the loudest talkers and who have already biased nearly everyone's view. Privacy is also important, so people can vote as they wish without having to worry about being vilified. I also think some study results need to be viewed before deciding but those results need to be presented in a manner that is useful to all people. The "loud talkers" want to see all of the individual data points but they don't know what to do with them and would likely not understand them and take them out of context.

Q2. South Bruce Address

Q3. Telephone Number

Q5. Community Organization (if any)

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

I like the community panel and advisory committee IF they are from a diverse selection (youth included). Proper non-bias education and information is key before making any decisions. Community engagement and information sessions (from non-biased educated people) is essential. Then the opinion polls and and a referendum is relevant IF it is based on an informed decision by an educated community! People need to know what they are actually voting for. People need to trust the information.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

The vote of council. I have lived in this community my entire life and do not find our council representative of our entire community. For example, there is not one woman on the council - and there are a lot of women that live in South Bruce. Additionally, the vote of 7 people is a very small sample size, considering how many people live in South Bruce. A larger sample (vote of all eligible South Bruce residents) would be more accurate when determining the DGR.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Every single youth and adult resident needs to be informed of the pros and cons of a possible DGR. Phone people? Knock on doors and do socially distanced front lawn talks? Senior homes or apartment buildings could be one visit. AND the people deserve to have every question they have answered. The workers phoning/visiting need to be informed and educated; both for and against the DGR.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

Good question. Without a doubt all South Bruce residents need to be properly informed. I have been to information sessions. I have heard from Geologists and NWMO representatives. BUT I would love to hear from a nuclear specialist that does NOT work for Bruce Power or in that industry. Perhaps a nuclear university professor - someone who actually knows the positive & negative impacts of nuclear and uranium (without bias of being paid by the NWMO, Bruce Power or the Municipality of South Bruce) No offence, but when the information is given by the NWMO, it is biased. I feel like they are trying to sell the project to me. I would LOVE to hear the other side of the argument so I can make a better informed decision for my community, family and future generations. I understand people can be, and are difficult to reach. But South Bruce residents care. A phone call. A stop by the farm to chat. That's what matters. Having honest conversations. Respecting people's feelings and opinions.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

I need unbiased information oh both Pros and Cons. I have questions that I would love answered!

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

I would love a place (online even) where residents could ask questions and receive timely answers about the DGR. I would love this to be public so residents could look back at questions and re-read answers. (E.g., a section on the South Bruce website). People may not answer the phone. People may not answer their door when you knock. But they may visit a question site. (e.g., most companies have a "live chat" option - so something similar). Thanks for listening

Q5. Community Organization (if any)

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

I think there needs to be a multi stage process so all facts are public prior to any decision making process. The idea of an advisory panel that reviews the draft legal agreements between NWMO and the municipality is a great idea. This group should not be the CLC and should not be a committee of council. They should have the latitude to review all documents without political or municipal staff interference. This would allow for an independent review of the agreement. Folks on the advisory committee would need to be bound to confidentiality agreements. Plus have a working knowledge of legal agreement or the willingness to learn during the process.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Opinion polls or surveys. The community is too small to obtain a large enough random sample. Plus it will not be viewed as an open process

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

The option of a referendum or a vote of council are in my opinion one and the same. So my preference would be to have a vote of council once the draft of the legal agreements between NWMO and South Bruce are published. If everyone in South Bruce knows the decision will be made by council after the 2022 election than folks can vote for the candidate to supports their position.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

With Covid large meetings have been canceled. I would like to see meetings with open debate. This would allow everyone to ask their questions to an expert panel. These meetings would need to have a structure and a method to control the debate. i.e. and independent facilitator.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

Would like to see all the studies published. I assume there will be a community impact study that goes with the bore hole study, ground water study, environmental impact etc. All these studies need to be reviewed and published prior to any decision.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

Since the SON have a say in the project I believe that no vote should take place in South Bruce until the SON has either agreed to the project or rejected it.

Certainly feed back from Community engagement type of events should give some indications except for again big % of population afraid to get involved because of intimidation from opposition/activist group.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Public referendum. I prefer the public referendum as it follows the democratic process that allows for a true community-centred decision.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

I do not like the council decision process as the opinions of council may not be representative of the populace of south Bruce peninsula. I do not like opinion polls and surveys as they rely on responses from randomly selected people who may not actually respond; those who do may have a particularly fierce opinion on the matter, this would create a bias in the results.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

I believe that the information related to this issue and decision has not been easily accessible to the public so far. This is a problem. The town should be more transparent with information surrounding this issue and why they decided to sign up for the program in the first place.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

Extensive environmental impact studies and full disclosure of the possible negative events or effects that could be resultant of the town moving forward with this program.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

I want to see information regarding potential impacts on environment, motives behind the participation in the program, and solid proof that the waterways will be protected:

Referendum yes or No Say No to the NWMO These survey are a waste of money., waste of time Lots of people have no internet or computers, because the internet is not good in rural areas, Not everyone is filling out survey, or pick a Willingness study Consultation workbook The question have nothing to do with Willingness Study The community want answers on high nuclear waste that it not safe to put in the ground, we have to protect our water and drinking water, and wild life and there habitat. This is project the DGR its breaking our Community apart.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

A referendum. This is absolutely the only fair way to decide willingness, one way or the other.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

1. Leaving 'willingness' to be determined by a vote of Council is anti-democratic and an abuse of process. Council has shown itself to have a vested interest. 2. Open polls are historically inaccurate and open to manipulation and misuse. At worst, mere propaganda.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Opinion polls and surveys get my vote but they need to engage a larger portion of the population than would normally be sampled due to the subject matter. This nuke dump decision will impact all of us in the vicinity. I also think a public referendum is essential before any final decision is made.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Advisory committees are often not random in composition and frequently are stacked with people who will just agree for various reasons (ie: they work at Bruce Power or for the OPG). This particular project shouldn't be left to a tiny slice of the population. Young people need to be consulted. This impacts their future most of all.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Phone surveys. Plebiscites at stores, libraries, high schools, etc.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

The willingness to listen is essential on both sides of the issue. Deciding that people who are not part of the yes faction shouldn't be discounted as not knowing enough about the subject matter. People may not know much about generating nuclear power but they know whether or not they want a radioactive dump next door. If you're looking to determine willingness, don't discount the "no" side as uninformed. Also, give a good read to what's written directly below this box. "When thinking about the process to determine willingness, what is important to you? What would you like considered? For example ... All South Bruce residents should be represented, We need to see the results of technical and social studies before deciding, The Guiding Principles need to be met by South Bruce and/or the NWMO, Need to have broad participation on how to measure willingness."

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

Why did the Municipality think a DGR sounded like a great idea? What level of 'softening' has OPG put into this already (money to hospitals, First Nations, wining and dining council members, etc.)

Nuclear power and electric cars are not as green as advertised. Not yet, anyway.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Public referendum---eliminates any bias ----each resident is allowed to vote and the majority is the final decision----too many people on Council and Community Liason Committee are connected to [REDACTED] through family employment and/or personal opinions that could sway a decision. this is too big a decision to only allow the chosen few to decide. Also there are people affiliated to the Bruce who are afraid to comment publicly incase there are repercussions to them personally or their associates ----eg---family---businesses-----and personal gain opportunities

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

as above ---eliminate any chances of bias voting----everyone needs to have their chance to vote their decision in confidence

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

a public vote by tax payers of South Bruce

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

the consequences to the community if there is a spill or a leak during filling the reservoir and/ or water contamination to the aquifer or the Great lakes

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

Most of the information sessions are too heavy to comprehend and are very one sided considering there really isn't any guaranteed no damage result down the road

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

This is prime agricultural land and Ontario Federation of Agriculture and the Christian Farmers both are demanding that we protect viable agriculture land from being taken out of production. How much more prime land will be consumed for residential occupancy if this proceeds. This project is causing major mental and personal rifts within a previously rather "Happy Community", So if this is to allow our community to move forward we need everyone involved in a vote and the majority results in the final decision of yes or no. Otherwise the fight will never end.

Q2. South Bruce Address

Q3. Telephone Number

Q5. Community Organization (if any)

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Opinion polls and surveys- can get the larger populations feedback. Public referendum- only after enough years have passed that we can all get enough info to make a proper decision, so we don't decide too quick and make a decision with out all the correct info. The higher percentage of the community that participates the better.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Vote of council- doesn't have the numbers of the municipality in 7 people to decide for all south Bruce If a community panel is selected or an advisory committee, need to be sure that it's not too small a number that could risk having too many from one group pushing ones own agenda.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Don't make a decision too quick, need to be properly informed.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

Need to wait for the testing to be complete, and everyone needs to make there own vote/decision with out the peer pressure of certain groups

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

Scientific results, based on research around the world. Need to know what the risks are, and that our community will be safe for many generations to come. Money can't be the only factor, however having Bruce power near by already puts us in a spot that we should want to do something better than what is being done now.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

A public referendum engages the public. It is truly the only means to show what the public wants.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Door to door survey. I realize this would take incredible man power and cost, but the future of the land and natural resources warrants it.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

100 % ensure the protection of the environment. South Bruce has farmland, water sources and a great lake close by. This must be protected.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

Most important to guarantee there could be no damage to the environment, water systems.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

It am not a resident of the Municipality of South Bruce, but have been a life long resident of Bruce County, having grown up on a farm. More recently moving to Hanover. I am deeply concerned about protecting farm land and water systems for future generations. It is one our greatest resources and once altered it will be near impossible to return to it's former state. No one can guarantee the safety of this project for future generations. I realize there are financial benefits of the project to the local community. The cost to our natural resources outweigh the financial benefits. Thank you.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

A vote on this project would be good in 2023 provided every one votes, not just those who are dragged out to vote. I believe that a certain percentage of the municipality must vote to make the vote valid.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

I prefer private responses from the residents of the community --so each person has the ability to express themselves without pressure, dominance or outside influence by others. It also helps to avoid negative consequences by others for your decision.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

I dislike townhall and workshop meetings were vocal residents dominate the conversation and less vocal residence feel uncomfortable to speak and be validated. This divides the community further instead of a joint effort to work together.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

To determine Community Willingness is difficult to ascertain without a definition of "willingness" . Is Willingness complete or partial. ?? A specific question including all details would need to be presented allowing residents to determine there personal willingness towards the project/activity/plan with a "yes" or a "no". Residents may agree with part of the question and feel uncomfortable with other parts. It will be a personnel wrestle to provide a "yes" or "no" answer. Perhaps a black and white response of a "yes" or" no" is not the best method but a type of compromise is required. The 39 community requirements guaranteed is a compromise to allowing the project to go ahead for the safety and comfort of the residence.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

We know 2 communities are in the running for the Deep Geological Repository. The question is --are South Bruce residence Willing to say "yes" to the project. I believe we need more information before the question is presented. We need to know the results of the boreholes --is the limestone rock suitable or not. The social studies of how the community would change is importance to understand. A strong commitment to the 39 Guiding Principles is very important. Change and the Unknown is always very scary to residents and blocks the ability to see the positive aspects of the project.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

We need lots of knowledge from trusted sources. Who or What is a trusted sources is becoming a problem to determine. ?? For myself --I want to see scientific evidence informing us of the geological structure and it's suitability, Water safety and radiation safety. for the residence and the country. The Saugeen Ojibway Nation and the local Conservation Societies-- need to be involved. We need to hear from them rather than stay in the background.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Referendum for sure because everyone who wants to vote can, not just a select few.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Absolutely NO to council vote. Taking a small "random" sample of population may not be accurate either.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

not answered

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

Everyone needs to have a voice in this decision. There needs to be a vote, and available to absolutely anyone within South Bruce, even shift workers who may need extended hours to participate in "in person" voting circumstance. A third party with absolutely no ties to the situation needs to be called in to count votes, so there is no funny business by either side. Let the people living and raising families in the community decide what willingness means. Determine what percentage of people for/against determines willingness, eg 51% gets to decide, or 65% support is needed to proceed, etc.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

I have seen the research and presentations. I am a science based person, however with something this big, which could effect our people and land for generations, we have to be willing to understand that science has been wrong before, and accidents can happen, regardless of safeguards. Does the SON need to sign off on this before it can proceed??

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

If you allow council or a small group of people to decide for the masses, expect a mass exodus of people who now mistrust the process, and I feel there will be negative socioeconomic consequences for this town.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

I prefer polls/surveys as they offer more than one question and more than a yes/no response, in an anonymous setting. I also am drawn to a community panel or something similar to that, provided residents are able to be respectful and open to honest dialogue.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

I dislike a vote of council (as a stand alone. following something like a recommendation from an advisory board is okay) and I dislike a referendum as a stand alone. both of these are restrictive in how they are completed. I don't believe any one indicator can be used as a stand alone, there needs to be more than one process used.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

not answered

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

I'd like to see some sort of "informedness" measured. There is a lot of false information being circulated as true, and sadly many community members are buying into the fear mongering. Those opinions should be counted, but weighted differently when they are not based on facts.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

I would like to see study results, borehole results, and environmental impact assessments completed prior to deciding if we are informed and willing. The community host package would be ideal to have details of as well.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

the Protect our Waterways group is lying to people and manipulating them with blatant lies and using professional opposers such as [REDACTED] to push their agenda. I would like a guarantee that opposition groups will respect the community's decision and stop opposing the project if it is determined we are in fact "willing" to host. Without this guarantee, the process is virtually useless.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

I prefer a 3-step approach. Step 1: Deploy online polls and surveys to all permanent and seasonal residents of South Bruce with questions regarding a referendum and if the resident would participate in an official referendum. I believe the the number of residents that correctly complete the survey / poll is a good preliminary indicator of how many residents would participate in a referendum. Step 2: Use the survey / poll results to determine if a referendum is the right avenue to take moving forward. I believe that the participation rate of the survey / poll is a good indicator for a potential referendum participation rate. Step 3: If the participation rate of the survey / poll results is below 50%, then I believe an advisory committee, and or community panel is the best process moving forward.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

I don't dislike any of the above options. That being said, I believe the community engagement activities should only be used as a tool to provide information and answer questions regarding the project, and not as the main tool to gauge community willingness.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

No, I believe the above list is comprehensive.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

A very transparent process from all parties.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

- Borehole results proving the South Bruce geology is optimal - Risk assessment plan(Environmental, Socioeconomic) - An update of the SON's willingness consultation and how the SON will determine if they are also a willing host

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

I like all of the community engagement activities, that allow the community to get the correct information (free of fear mongering). At a later point in time a public referendum will need to be held, but only once all site suitability information is available.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

I dislike opinion polls and random surveys. I feel this information can be easily manipulated to show whatever a specific group would like.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

not answered

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

All residents and land owners need to feel included and know that their voices are being heard. Residents need to feel safe in expressing their opinions and that they won't be targeted for having those opinions.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

I feel we do need to know the opinions of the SON as they have the power to say no and overrule South Bruce saying yes. All of this could be for nothing if they say no. Having said that, what information is being provided to them before they make a decision and what process is being used to determine their willingness? All site information needs to be available before the community can make an informed decision, rock make up, aquifers, etc.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

I have heard that the NWMO will happily walk away if the community is not willing. If the community decides that it is willing, will the anti DGR group stop with their antics? I am tired of looking at the yellow homemade signs that clutter our roadways and spread misinformation. "Teeswater a place to glow" is the furthest thing from a true statement and should be removed.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

I feel that the final decision will need to be made by referendum. Anything else will be seen as taking the decision away from the residents.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

I don't think that surveys or advisory committees should make a final recommendation. Those are great for getting feedback and informing the process, but not for decision-making.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

not answered

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

All safety criteria must be met. Ongoing financial support of the community and specific infrastructure investments must be agreed to. Community resources like child care and things like a dedicated bike path from town to the facility for employees needs to be included. And the centre for excellence must be on the site with the DGR - not at the opposite end of the municipality.

community engagement town halls and a public referendum. Every citizen should have a say in the process and an impartial way to be informed, and all I have seen so far is the "loudest" participants trying to have more of a say than what is their individual right

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Council vote, this has become too divisive of an issue, and councillors have not publicly declared their thoughts on this topic (to my knowledge). If it is left to a council vote at minimum this should be a major discussion point of the next election before this vote takes place

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

public referendum: because it allows everyone to voice their opinion. Although opinion polls should be random, they may not be representative of the entire community. This is a large decision that will affect everyone in the area for years to come so everyone's opinion should be heard.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Advisory committee, community engagement activity, and community panel: They all limit their scope of getting public opinion.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Public vote similar to our municipal election

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

All South Bruce residents need to be able to voice their opinions. Social, economic, and scientific impacts need to be made public. Ideally anyone within 50-100 kms should be able to voice opinion since they are all affected but the weight of their vote should be prorated based on their distance from the DGR (e.g., group results for those within 10 kms, 11-25 kms, >25kms) with individuals closest to the DGR site having the most weight.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

Scientific data, geological results, SON opinion, compensation plans for things such as property value declines

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

It would also be useful to know when residents can expect to voice their opinions officially, how much NWMO has spent on various aspects of their education campaign including specifically how much they have donated to each group.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Polling/Surveys - would allow multiple questions/answers be asked in an anonymous medium should people wish to remain unknown
Community engagement sessions - provide information while collecting feedback at the same time

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Referendum - could result in a minority of community making a decision, people who "don't care" are omitted from the process
Vote of Council - should not have 8 or 9 people making a stand alone decision

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

I don't think we need to reinvent the wheel, I think we should rely on processes we know and integrate multiple processes to determine a strategy

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

those who "don't care" are included in the numbers somehow all residents should have the opportunity to express their opinion study results should be available before determining willingness

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

My top 3 choices would be (in no particular order) 1. The CLC - this group has stayed informed on the topic and it's main goal is betterment of the municipality. They know what's happening and what's possible. 2. Referendum. This seems like a logical choice. Everyone gets a vote and I feel like the 50% or more of 50% of the community seems really fair. I have hesitations about a referendum because I feel some people are spreading misinformation that may sway neutral votes. The benefit is that everyone gets "a say" and no one can argue that the decision was swayed by the NWMO. 3. Council. This type of decision is what we voted them in for but I feel like this project has brought on so much stress to them as our friends and neighbours already I don't think we can put this decision on them.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Engagement activities, polls and surveys and a community panel. I just think these choices aren't going to move our municipality forward. Too many variables, too much room for opinions.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

I feel like the majority of people are waiting for more geological information and will make their decision after that. I would like if voting can be done in person or online. We are a busy young family (many of us are!) and some times it's easier if we can do things online from home!

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

I think you have to give people the option to vote online or from home.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

The SON is correct - we need the scientific information to back up the plan.

Vote of Council. Councillors are to represent the people that voted them in but that does not necessarily happen

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Let the indigenous vote first. No sense wasting more money if they are just going to vote no. If they vote yes then proceed with South Bruce willingness.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

I think a decision needs to be made by the council elected to represent the people. Polls surveys but most importantly facts and science should dictate that direction

Any sort of referendum that does not follow current law of 50%+1 cannot be considered. Some are saying that they want a 2/3 referendum, but in reality that means a small 1/3 will be deciding the outcome

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

I like the advisory committee or community panel. It's a larger group than just council, and can represent a much larger group of people. I also like engagement, surveys and polls, as they can act like a vote but offer more choices in their questions and answers.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

I don't like the idea of a referendum because one yes or no question doesn't cover the scope of this project. I also don't like the idea of council making the decision on their own. I feel that it should be at least based on a broader opinion of the public.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

Borehole results, socio economic studies, some "off ramps" for the municipality if we are unhappy with information that appears after we say we're willing - we shouldn't be locked in forever if something life changing is made known.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

Proof of water protection, would be nice to make the decision in collaboration with SON, rather than each community doing what they want with no consideration of the other.

On all the committee's I've been on and also within the Kinsmen club we always vote. There is no better way to determine willingness.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

I really dislike the process they NWMO used to acquire their land in South Bruce. I think it was very unfair to the rest of the neighbourhood other than those who profited.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

No, it's plain and simple, vote 50% +1

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

Each resident needs to have a vote. Also this affects those under 18 more than those over 18 so their voices should also be heard.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

We should have access to as much as possible. The vote can be scheduled after the learning process but it's very important that there is a vote. This decision cannot be decided by council or municipal employees as there is too much bias.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

I think the public needs to be informed prior to the vote but voting is the best and simplest way to establish willingness. simple majority rules. In general I would say I was a supporter of the NWMO and the project up until they acquired the land in an unfair process that benefited those who profited at the expense of their neighbours. Those actions undermined the "trust" of the NWMO for many residents so now your working from a position of weakness rather than a position of strength. The fact that the sale prices were not disclosed and you cannot look them up shows no transparency whatsoever and further undermines any "social equity" the NWMO had. Hiding stuff from people leads them to believe you have something to hide...

Vote of Council - the large amounts of money that NWMO has given to the municipality will certainly influence how the council feels about the project

It seems to me that 'determining willingness' is just one more way of prolonging the decision. Yes all SB residents should be represented and results of the various studies should be seen, but is it going to make a difference in the end? It is looking like a foregone conclusion.

Community Panel(with polls and surveys), or Referendum. It takes more of a cross section of resident opinions compared to others

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Vote Of Council- It will turn the municipal election into a type of referendum of its own, and councilors will be elected purely on their opinion of a DGR. Once they determine how to proceed with the DGR, I am concerned there will be little or no care as to what happens in the following three years throughout the municipality

not answered

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

I think there should be some consideration as to the age of those who get to vote.... There are a lot of elders in the community voicing their opinion on what our community should be, but the reality is, it is up to the younger generations to decide what kind of community we want. There should also be some form of commitment to what NWMO will contribute to the community going forward (municipal tax contributions, continued well being, road maintenance and upgrades)

Scientific evidence should be widely available long before any sort of decision is made so safety can be a valid discussion

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Community engagement activities, advisory committee, vote of council. I would like to see studies completed on the sale/purchase of land, houses etc. in the area for new people coming to the area, current members of the committee buying and selling and the reasons people are making the changes. With land and houses trading for record dollars are people speculating or are they interested in working at the proposed DGR.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

I do not like a referendum. How many people are being bullied into voting. We all have a vote in the municipal election. If people are elected to sit on council they should have the right to vote for what they feel is best for the area. Every person eligible to vote is also eligible to run for a council position.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

New business is always welcome, why is this project any different. We do not have a say if a large gravel pit with dust or a super large dairy farm is spreading their waste next to my acreage. Both are considered waste and pollution. We all use nuclear (hydro), gravel and milk so I feel all industries should be treated equal. We all have two choices: stay if we are happy with what is happening in the community or leave if we are not. People have been arriving and leaving this community since the beginning.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

We need to know the project will be safe. South Bruce residents need to be informed. The guiding principles need to be met and there must be representation on the NWMO board of directors from South Bruce. Money definitely talks, we need to be able to let all residents enjoy the privileges of large business in the area. With more people having great paying jobs that in turn encourages other business to start and then everyone will be able to have access to grocery stores, banks, hospitals etc.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

I need the truth. Reading info that is 20+ years old is not reliable, everything changes. Scientific evidence is very important. Humans have changed this planet in many ways, this is called progress. I am sure no one wants to go back to the days when this area was covered in trees and rocks with no roads, homes or having to produce all our own food. We all like our comforts. The project must be proven to be safe (water and air quality)

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

Having spent my entire life in this community (60+ years) I know change will always happen. My roots on both sides can be traced to land taken from the crown. Both sides had many self employed people and community leaders (councilors, fire chiefs, school board reps, community organization leaders etc.) I have raised my [REDACTED] children in this community and am happy to say [REDACTED] have chosen to stay or return 'home' to raise my [REDACTED] grandchildren here. I look forward to having my grandchildren raise their children here so I can enjoy my great grandchildren as both my mother and mother-in-law now do. I have noticed many of the people who are opposing this project are doing so for their own personal reasons. Many of the people opposed to the DGR have not been community minded people in the past. Having sat on the [REDACTED] Teeswater Homecoming Committee [REDACTED] I found out first hand how the enthusiasm can work in this community. Surprising not many of the people who are opposed to the DGR volunteered to help with this community fund raiser. With the community working together we were able to raise over $160,000 in one weekend. People were very happy, everyone respected each other and were proud to call Teeswater home. Unfortunately this is no longer the case with people calling each other names, not speaking to neighbours and some even trying to discredit business owners who take a job for the NWMO. NWMO is a member of this community whether you like it or not. They are one of the largest land owners in South Bruce. I expect them to look after their land and be community minded the same as I expect every landowner, homeowner and resident to be respectful and community minded.

Q2. South Bruce Address

Q3. Telephone Number

Q5. Community Organization (if any)

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

I interpret this question as more of "whom" will decide the outcome of the project from the standpoint of the Municipality Of South Bruce leadership and constituents. Certainly the South Bruce council of the day will either choose to endorse or not to endorse the terms and conditions of the project. That is why we elect officials to govern. It is a federal project and society ( including South Bruce and leadership) needs to respect the intentions and directives from the federal government that takes into consideration for the "greater good" of all Canadians. To that end, I believe in conjunction with municipal Council and senior staff that a blend of the fore mentioned bodies such as advisory panels, community engagement activities ( without interference from self serving anti nuclear activists and for that matter anti economic development activists) , surveys and polls, and community panels. I do not support referendum option.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

I do not support a referendum , Period ! I have belonged to many boards and organizations over the decades and been Chair of many local , provincial and national organizations. A referendum or forced vote on an important issue never allows opportunity for consensus building to reach an amicable solution or outcome. It becomes a "winner or loser" outcome. Everyone needs to win! A referendum that is suggested by many anti proponents could also set a detrimental precedent for future decision making in this municipality. Confusion for any future council will be in the back of their minds of whether or not they can make a decision, or do many decisions have to be made by the general population in the municipality ? The other dangerous precedent is that do we all feel like we have the "right" to decide what industry ( agriculture, forestry, aggerates etc etc ) can be here or not ? I know for a fact that large agriculture farm operations become more targeted as "factory farms" that disregard many environmental expectations by the general majority of the population. Also though this DGR process I have heard that " we don't need those type of people in our community " meaning anti racist sentiments. One ponders whether or not this is about safety of the DGR , or excluding minorities from our community.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

( 1 ) - I believe that the many, many people within the Municipality of South Bruce have already been demonstrating " willingness " over the last decade with the possibility of the DGR, the current refurbishment program at Bruce Power , the Gay Lea Foods expansion in Teeswater ( or for that matter the retention of Gay Lea in Teeswater), Kinetrics and many other small industry and manufacturing. No doubt agriculture has pulled itself out of somewhat of depression from the late 1990's to approximately 2010. A major evidence provider is that of real estate values and demand building over the last decade. Certainly Covid has caused over zealous inflation in the real estate market the last 18 months, but momentum has been building especially the last 5 years before Covid where real estate values especially in the "GTA" - Greater Teeswater Area were in the sewer compared to most of the rest of Ontario. What sparked that ? Well the answer I believe is connected to enthusiasm for a brighter future of the municipality through positive economic development strategies that had influence by municipal councils and staff and that of a new progressive South Bruce Business Association. With that enthusiasm there has been a significant " willingness" of more youthful ( 40 and under) staying or moving back to South Bruce and region to raise families and of more importance , put significant investment back into the community though home and property investment and new business investment and higher paying jobs for enhanced skill sets. Definitely agriculture has made investment too, but not unlike the rest of North America , farm operations continue to get larger, more mechanized and more relevant they are tight knit family corporations that usually don't pay well and very little opportunity for employee advancement. ( 2 ) - NWMO investment- NWMO, whether some people like it or not, are a corporate citizen of this municipality . Like any citizen , corporate or an individual, a community thrives and excels when they contribute into community needs. That can be any combination of volunteer contributions and financial contributions for community betterment. So a big question going forward is what is that contribution look like over the decades into needs of the community to make it a better place ? No doubt if new employees of the DGR project and Center of Expertise begin to call South Bruce and region home , many will get involved personally in respective communities. ( 3 ) - infrastructure investment - what does willingness mean for infrastructure investment by NWMO ? I will cover that off more in next question

---

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

( 1 ) - safety , safety and more safety . No doubt the nuclear industry has a very impressive safety track record in this country , but that still has to be main focus throughout process to insure willingness ( 2 ) - Guiding Principles have to have very positive outcomes and agreed to by all stakeholder parties and disseminated through understandable communications venues. ( 3 ) - many anti proponents suggest that many people are only focused on the " monetary " aspect , but sorry , as a lifetime business person, I don't make any apologies of having to know what the monetary outcomes and benefits of an initiative are before committing , or in this case , "willingness" ( 4 ) - what does that monetary value look like ( how many $$$$ 's) over the decades potentially centuries and how is it indexed for inflation ? ( 5 ) - representation at NWMO-willingness as South Bruce as a partner with NWMO also would entail at least 1 person and hopefully 2 individuals as engaged and voting directors on the NWMO board ( 6 ) - representation on other nuclear stakeholder entities to ensure 2 way engagement of knowledge and input into new technologies and entities with at this time undeveloped nuclear technology solutions for society. ( 7 ) - infrastructure investment before the project even starts construction. That also would require involvement in planning and any planning regulatory requirements and impacts ( 8 ) - Agriculture assurances- the main anti proponents and anti sentiments come from some vocal and self serving farm operators . They call out so many aspects of non believe in science around just not the DGR , but in general the nuclear industry, yet, many of the anti proponents are involved in modern agriculture that is high tech and uses science in every aspect of their operation every day ! Agriculture demands for water and proper resource management are far far more demanding of the environment and can have potential negative environmental impacts than they ever have been in the history of agriculture. Food safety questions are always relevant in this dialogue , but there are numerous other nuclear facilities that are monitored have next to zero impact on food safety. Willingness should be and can be addressed via Health Canada and the Canadian Food Inspection Agency ( CFIA) quite satisfactorily with the regulated requirement that all and/or any food or feed in this country must be safe for consumers, livestock, industrial usage or for export to other countries ! Period !

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Public Referendum -The only true way to measure the community's willingness is to let the public vote on this issue. Also this project should not go forward without a 60 to 70 % of the people in favor. The reason I feel this way is because the proposed site is not located centrally in the middle of the municipality. So many of the voters may not be adversely affected by the project especially if something were to go wrong.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Advisory Committee, Community Panel, opinion polls & surveys, vote of council, & etc. These processes allow for only a few people to make this important decision . This is not the way we do things in Canada - a public referendum is the only way to decide.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Public vote on the issue for all people that live or own property in a 50 mile radius of this proposed site. I know this proposed project is located in South Bruce but it is barely across the boundary from Huron Kinloss and some of their residents stand to be more affected by this proposed project than some of the residents in South Bruce.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

Equal funding for the people "for" and "against" this project. It seems at the present time that all the money is on one side - where is the funding for the other side so they can provide their info? The only true way to have an informed community is if both sides can provide their info and then let the people decide and vote on the willingness on having the project. I feel that the Liaison Committee and Council have not looked very closely at the cons of this proposed project only the pros. In my opinion it is hard to not feel that the money donated to the towns and council and the close relationship with NWMO over the last 10 years or so are not indirectly affecting their view of this project.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

More info on the cons side of such a project in the community - it seems we have only received one side of this project yet.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

This is not just a decision for only South Bruce. It is a decision for surrounding Municipalities, the province and Canada. Mankind does not have a great track record with disposing of dangerous substances. Lets make sure before we go ahead that this is the right solution for the used nuclear fuel. Our generation is already being blamed for a lot of poor choices on other fronts - lets not make this another one.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Public Referendum - everyone has the opportunity to have a voice

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Vote of Council - not elected based on this. Decision in the hands of only 7 people. Conflict of interest since taking money from NWMO Advisory Committee - CLC members are biased and want the DGR

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Public Referendum only

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

All South Bruce residents and landowners should be consulted, to have their vote.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

Need information on how the project will negatively affect South Bruce. The only information that is currently presented is how safe it is and how wonderful the economic benefits will be.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

Council and the Municipality is in a conflict of interest. They have been bought by the NWMO with grant money. It is clear through their actions the management of the Municipality support the DGR, so that they can continue the flow of money, making their jobs much easier.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Public Referendum. It allows every community member that would like their voice to be heard to cast a vote. It also provides equal rights and opportunities for all residents.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

Any process that allows a select group of individuals to determine the outcome for the community as a whole.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

Willingness should only be determined after every single resident of South Bruce has had equal opportunity to vote.

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

Surveys/studies that produce objective data on the preferred process to determine willingness.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

Non-biased peer review of technical studies and scientific data produced and published.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

Measurement of the preferred process of the community to determine willingness would be more easily identified by a survey that produced statistics as opposed to short form answers found in this survey.

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Community panel will give a wide perspective of interest groups, who hopefully will evaluate the science. Two opinion polls that are random should be done as a 'barometer' to seek the general opinion of citizens as more 'info' is shared re test holes, etc. Advisory Council if it is the current CLC, should be able to present to council. Perhaps a formula using outcomes of above 3 would be put forth and council would have to endorse based on that.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

I feel a referendum would only be an indication of what 'side' did the most campaigning. It is very easier to vote yes or no without having to give a lot of thought or consideration to the long term pros and cons of the project. I feel it would spur on a whole pile of door knocking, costs of printed materials and confrontations. Would someone one from the 'yes' platform even be able to campaign door to door? I expect that most folks that would vote on a referendum question would never have attended an information meeting. Also you would have to be 18 to vote.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

not answered

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

Given the timeline of the proposed built, I believe it is important that the high school aged citizens are well informed on the proposal and given an opportunity to express an opinion. This will be to their benefit or detriment. Is there a timeline and details on the potential economic spin off?

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

Facts and Science - clear and concise. What percent of waste would come from Bruce Power vs other Ont. plants vs out of province. What timeline would waste be moved on, ie to deal with 'build up', there after? Are we looking at seeing trucks on the road every day? Comparison of 'project' to salt mine at goderich that we can relate to . Information on the measures that will be put in place to protect waterways and aquifer is important.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

I appreciate there are those that say not in my backyard. However we have a nuclear plant in our 'big backyard' and I would love to know the consultation that took place in the 1950/60s. How much has South Bruce benefitted from the 'employment' at Bruce Power and supporting companies that operate out of South Bruce. It would be an interesting question to ask in a poll 'have you ever worked or are working for a company that supports Bruce Power or an employee of Bruce Power. Has a family member worked... as several may no longer live in south bruce... I can name 2 with 2 miles on my road. I support science, I appreciate the fear, but at the end of the day, there has to be a balance between economic potential and impact on society, and how do you really measure that.

Q5. Community Organization (if any)

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

I support a Vote of Council primarily. We live in a representative democracy, and our politicians should campaign, then lead decisively, and account for their decisions in the following election. Community Engagement activities and a Community Panel are also good ideas, provided that they don't unnecessarily prolong the ultimate decisions, which need be made by our elected officials.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

I dislike referenda on many issues, as they present divisive dichotomies, and often raise questions about how binding they are upon future generations.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

I would suggest that the question of the DGR feature prominently in the next municipal election (2022). Perhaps a dedicated debate on the issue could take place, with questions from community members posed to the politicians running for council & mayor (either town hall style, or moderated by an impartial host).

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

I think it's important to have clear communication about the steps being taken, evidence that concerns have been raised & heard, and then update on the ultimate decision taken by the leadership and the reasoning behind it. This could take the form of TV & newspaper ads, social media, or direct mail newsletters.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

I want to hear the thinking that will inform the opinions of council & the mayor. For instance, does council consider the project economically beneficial? Does the mayor believe the Great Lakes will be irreparably contaminated by the DGR? If a vote were held today, how would council vote?

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

At this point, I'm broadly supportive of the DGR and of this ongoing process. I think that, despite the occasionally divisive nature of this public policy debate, good evidence should inform a decision (however controversial) of the democratically elected officials. Thank you for listening to my perspective!

Q6. What types of processes do you prefer and why?

Referendum and community panel used together. A concern I have with a referendum is that many people will not be well-informed, and thus are vulnerable to exploitation through ignorance or misinformation. Due to the power imbalance between the community (which is busy with many other things and has limited attention for this project) and the NWMO (whose entire job and considerable budget concerns this project), the default position must be that the project will not go ahead. In other words, while it would be acceptable for the process to allow people to turn the project down due to irrational concerns (since this is an issue of simple unwillingness), it is not acceptable to have them approve it because they are poorly informed. I would propose that for the project to go ahead, two levels of approval would be needed. A small, highly informed group should decide whether we are sufficiently informed to make a decision and whether the NWMO is acting fairly, in good faith, and in a way that will satisfy our priorities (as laid out in the guiding principles). If this group gives their approval, the actual decision would go to the rest of the community. This pair of processes would seek to address "depth" and "breadth" respectively. For the small group, I would support a special community panel. These people would be randomly selected (perhaps with requirements for including representative demographics). This committee could hear from a diversity of voices, including ones independent of the NWMO, in order to become more deeply informed about the project and the process so far so that they could judge whether the community has been fairly treated and accurately informed. The decision should ultimately come to everyone in the community I think the best system for doing this would be through some form of referendum.

Q7. What types of processes do you dislike and why?

I most strongly oppose the exclusive use of a vote of Council or the CLC. I do not believe that these parties can reasonably be assumed to reflect the community's willingness. Community engagement activities would be too inconclusive; they cannot be used to make a clear yes/no decision. A special, randomly selected community committee or survey could be acceptable, but I dislike these options because they seem needlessly limiting in who they include. We have time and resources to consult everyone in the community, so I believe we should do our best to do this rather than only consult a subset. As a side note, while the survey says that a vote of Council would be required in any situation, I have a concern about this. First of all, I do not think the current Council should make this decision, because when they were elected the DGR was not foremost in people's minds, and so the Council cannot be seen as representatives of the community on this important issue. Placing the decision after the next election solves that issue, but creates another. I think the process should not be tied in any way to a municipal election, since this would needlessly interfere with local politics (people might run on platforms centred around this single issue, and this would skew how people vote). All this would accomplish is to have an "indirect referendum" via who is voted in. It would be politically healthier and more accurate to simply have a completely separate referendum. This would really render Council's final approval unnecessary, so I would oppose including it as a step in the process.

Q8. Do you have other suggestions on how willingness could be determined?

not answered

---

Q9. What would you like to ensure is included in the process to determine willingness?

I support processes that consult the whole community. This means that a relatively high degree of approval would need to be established from a large proportion of the population. I dislike the assumptions built into the referendum as presented that the bar for approval is 50% support with 50% turnout and that only people of voting age have a voice. I believe higher turnout should be required, and possibly a higher rate of support as well. 25% support and 50% apathy does not sound like an indication of "willingness" to me. More important than this, I think people below voting age should have a say. This could include those who have taken Gr. 10 Civics, all high school students, all students, or everyone who can indicate an opinion one way or the other. This is important because the project will have very long-term impacts; most of those who may be affected by it have not been born, but the least we can do is give those who have been born a voice. In the referendum, I think in addition to "yes" and "no" options, there should be a "not yet; insufficiently informed" option. If the referendum did not pass but many of rejections were of the latter form, the NWMO could keep working with the community and hold another referendum later. This would have the potential to save a lot of time and money by not needing to completely restart the process of finding a host community.

Q10. What information do you need to participate meaningfully?

Comprehensive overview "courses" of the project should be provided prior to a decision being made. SBCLC meetings tend to deal in-depth with particular aspects of the project. While this can be helpful, it often leaves people without a thorough understanding of what the entire project involves. Having a single complete course (or several versions of variable detail) would help people to get a sense of the entire scope of the project, each of the pieces that would be included (e.g. construction, transportation, packaging, on- and off-site monitoring, etc.), the timeline for each stage of the project, and the full set of worse-case scenarios with estimates of their impacts.

Q11. Use this space to provide any additional comments

For this meta-process (how to determine willingness) to be accepted as legitimate by the community, the presentation of how the input from workshops, surveys, and workbooks was processed and used to establish the final version of the willingness determination process will have to be very transparent and sensitive to criticism.

I was against this project at the beginning without knowing any facts, but now after reading the columns in the newspaper and realizing they were promoting a lot of propaganda and fear mongering which is a form of bullying. I have decided to belong to the willing to listen group.
